CAMPAIGN STARTS TO INTEREST CIVIC HEADS IN BUILDING CRUSADE

Stress Need of Action As Other Colleges Seek Funds For New Building

With action centered on interesting civic leaders of San Francisco and the bay area, the campaign to secure adequate buildings for the college entered its third phase today.

Coincident with this step was the plan to flood Sacramento with a flood of letters and telegrams protesting against the conditions at the college. These letters and telegrams will be directed mainly at the various representatives and senators.

Must Show Backing

The members of the Associated Students were being urged to back up this move. Harold Martin, publicity director, declared: "If we are to win this fight we must show the powers at the State capitol that we are united. We must show them that we are determined to win in this battle to secure safe buildings. A storm of protest, heightened by letters from your parents and friends will help immeasurably."

Further need for a united front was pointed out by the fact that other State colleges are starting campaigns to secure appropriations for buildings. An unverified story from Santa Barbara declares that Santa Barbara State College is expecting the sum of $2,500,000 to construct a new campus. At the present time, Santa Barbara has one of the most outstanding plants of all of the State colleges. San Diego State is said to outrank it in spaciousness and extent of the campus.

Letters to all State senators and assemblymen have been sent by the committee in charge. These communications outline the conditions at the college and the hoped for remedy. It is to substantiate these letters that the committee is asking for the flood of protest mail.

Further Danger

Further illustration of the dangers that are prevalent in College Hall was seen in the fact that the North exit of the administration building leads to a very narrow gate and into two narrow alleyways. Congestion has marked this spot as one of the most dangerous on the campus in the eventuality of a fire or an earthquake. Observers have declared that this narrow exit would take its toll in the case of a conflagration.

Low Frosh Dine Tomorrow Night

Private Room At Venitos Will Hold All—Says Prexy

"Come one—come all to our Low Freshman dinner tomorrow night," stated Bill Ferem, president of the class, when he was interviewed yesterday.

"Since the dinner is being held at the picturesque Veneto Restaurant, it is bound to be the best Frosh dinner ever held," continued Ferem.

Ferem revealed that the entertainment for the evening consists of six big acts, including Jack Martin and Douglass Kidd, versatile music students at State, who will render some banjo and piano selections; Frances Sarah, Low Frosh, will sing, and a trio made up of Clarice Dechant, Dorothy Jean White and Marshall Blum.

Bob Sweeny and Marge Kearny will act as host and hostess for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Nee and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harden will be guests for the evening. At that time Mr. Harden will be introduced as the Class Faculty Adviser of the Low Freshman.

For the benefit of those who have never been at Venetos, the following information is given. Venetos is located at 389 Bay street. The dinner begins promptly at 7:30 and the price is 55c.

NOON GAMES OPEN TO ALL

A new tournament, open to all students, is being started as part of the noonday recreation activities, according to latest reports from the Women's Athletic Association.

Students who have hesitated at entering the noonday sports because they do not know how to play the games offered, need fear no longer on this score, say W. A. A. officials, because Miss Cundiff will be present to assist beginners.

The arrival of new equipment is expected to add to the popularity of the new tournament.

Virginia Kyriazi, president of W. A. A., is in charge of these affairs, which proved very popular with the State students last semester.

Executive Board Will Enforce Handbill Act

Trophy cases and the problems involved therein were the most important matters discussed outside of President's Day sanction at the executive board meeting last Monday evening at the regular weekly meeting.

Ed Smith and Darryl Hopkins were appointed as the committee to look in to the matter of the cases. The problem of the cases was—which is the most useful a triangular one or a square case? It was decided that the committee would decide and bring the matter up as soon as possible. The case will be put in the student body office when negotiations are completed.

Clarice Dechent, director of publications, brought up the matter of conserving all club minutes and should there be a file kept of such. President Cockrum appointed her as a committee of one to look into such matters. It was brought out that many valuable notations were lost from year to year and such a file would be of advantage to the student body.

In respect to the unauthorized publication, The Daily Stater, it was again announced that no official sanction of the paper had been given and the secretary was asked to communicate with Irwin Bischoff, its editor.

It was previously decided that all handbills and publications outside the jurisdiction of the Board of Publications were to be okeyed by an executive board member before the stencil or publication was distributed. This rule will be rigidly enforced from now on.

The Picture Isn't Pretty

Editorial

The picture isn't pretty. Consider what would happen if a fire or an earthquake should hit College Hall while classes are in session. Consider the inadequate exits. Consider the wooden fire escape. Consider the narrow doors that open to the classrooms. Consider the valuable records. Consider the human factor. Then consider what you are going to do about it.

The fight has begun. The second stage is reached. You again play the major part. A solid storm of protest must fall on Sacramento. You can help raise the hurricane. Get your parents, friends, and organizations to write letters of protest to your representatives at Sacramento. Get delegations to call on your representatives.

This will be one way of awakening the powers that be to the situation here at the College. They must be awakened. The college is facing a crisis. The inadequacy of the present campus is a bar to expansion.

Consider this fact! Unless we show a united front, other State colleges will step in and secure the cream of the appropriations!

President's Day Climaxes College Drive For Funds

President's Day, an event planned to promote the recently inaugurated drive for funds for new buildings on the State Campus, will be held on December 9 and will feature important guests from California political circles, according to the committee recently appointed by the Executive Board.

Howard Demeke, member of the Student Board of Publications, has been appointed as chairman of the affair. Other committee members are: Clarice Dechent, secretary; Dorothy Jean White, Will Smith, Ed Cockrum, Student Body president; Harold Martin, Gus Smith, George Teale, Bud Decker, Virginia Kyriazi and Bill Ferem.

Program

The tentative program for the day is as follows: A luncheon from 1:00 to 2:00 p. m. in the gym; entertainment to consist of field stunts, band, etc., on the upper field, and a reception and rally from 3:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon.

The committee has arranged to contact the board of deans to secure its assistance in the affair. All assemblymen and state senators will be contacted to secure their presence.

In conjunction with President's Day, the recently circulated petitions will be completed with students posted at various points of the campus to secure signatures that are not already on these petitions. Another step in the program will be the completion of a complete estimate of the values of the records, library, and equipment that is at present housed within College Hall as compared with an appraisal of the value of the building.

Conditions Shown

The purpose of the affair, as outlined by Demeke, chairman of the committee, is to acquaint the proper officials with the conditions that exist on the Campus. This action will be a climax to the campaign being conducted for adequate housing conditions at San Francisco State.

Demeke also stressed the fact that it is the individual responsibility of each student to be present at the affair.

NOTED SPEAKERS IN MON. COURSE

Finishing the second series, "Rich Strand in the fabric of American Living," Mrs. Marion Cooch spoke to the World Today group last Monday on "The Immortal Quest: Heritage in Art." Mrs. Cooch is Associate Professor of Art at State.

The last series will begin next Monday evening with the large sub-topic, "Threats against a community of cultures in America." Dr. Edna Barney, Miss Hilda Holmes, Dr. Roy C. Cave and Dr. Sherman L. Brown will be the noted speakers for that series. Each speaker is a known authority in his particular field.

Plans are already made for the course for next semester. The course is free to State students and they are invited to attend any of the lectures held weekly in Frederic Burk Auditorium.

This Monday night group is recognized as one of the foremost courses given in the bay area. Many newspaper articles have appeared in local papers concerning the splendid ideas put forth there.

MRS. DOWNEY SPEAKS AT ALUMNI ASSO.

Mrs. Alma Downey, new Personnel Secretary at State, will address the alumni association tonight on the functions of the Placement Department.

The meeting will be held at the Classroom Teachers' Chinese Room, 465 Post street. The time set is 8:15 p. m.

Miss Mabel Delavan is chairman of the meeting and stated that it was open to all graduates of State College.

FRIDAY IS NEW DATE SET FOR MONROE TALK

Because of conflicts that prevented many of those interested from attending, the lecture on Fundamental Relations which Mrs. Bertha Monroe was to have given at noon, last Friday, has been moved ahead to this coming Friday.

The lecture, which will include discussions from the audience, will be heard in Room 208, and is the first of a series to deal with this question.

Registrar's Office

Students who have not made out their program for next semester must do so as soon as possible, said Miss Florence Vance, registrar of the College.

Those students who did not obtain a copy of the program when it was first issued will now be charged five cents, stated Arthur Monsees, circulation manager of the Golden Gater.

Those wanting these program sheets may obtain them in the Publication's Office, Room 114, in College Hall.

SELLOUT FOR PROM SEEN

FEW BIDS REMAIN FOR DANCE

Big Game Motif Heightens Interest In Traditional Affair Sponsored By Junior Classes — Colonial Room of St. Francis For Setting

Staters will gather at the Hotel St. Francis Colonial Ballroom this Saturday for the Junior Prom. Several indications point to the affair as being one of the gayest and best attended of the social season. The demand for tickets has been heavy, particularly from outside sources, and that demand is growing as the date draws nearer.

Howard Demeke said, "Any one who misses this affair will be missing one of the best things the college has offered so far. The present Junior class has a fine reputation for doing their events in real style. The present Prom is no exception."

Last Days For Tickets

Everett Parrish reported satisfactory conditions on the ticket committee and promised that there would be someone on duty at the desk in the main hall to sell bids at all hours of the day. He emphasized also that the price of $1.50 for individual bids would remain in force until five o'clock Friday afternoon. At the gate the night of the Prom the figure will advance to $2.00.

Pauline Quirk, vice-president in charge of hostesses, said that girls had been selected from both High and Low Junior classes.

Will Smith, publicity chairman, reported a successful campaign to make the college 'Prom conscious.' He said, "We of the committee feel definitely that everyone in the college knows the facts of the event. This is evidenced by the fact that there is a brisk demand for tickets not only from members of the student body but from alumni and the members of other student bodies."

First Come Rule

The ticket committee stated that the old rule of first come first served would be strictly observed. An early sell-out was confidently expected.

Rose Marie Haas, chairman of the Bids committee, said that the bids would be all that was expected and there would be no cause for disappointment on that score. The programs will be both unique and attractive, she promised.

Howard Demeke made the statement that all arrangements had been completed for assuring the attendants of the dance a gay enjoyable and well conducted event. Doors will open about eight o'clock. Gary Evers' orchestra will contribute many of the numbers for which that body is known, as well as some new swing orchestrations for the dancers.

Men, Women Put On Jinx

Co-Sponsors Are A.W.S. and A.M.S.—Gifts, Acts on Bill

To make the Christmas Jinx this year one of the oustanding events of the school semester, the A. W. S. and the A. M. S. are joining forces to put on the best jointly sponsored activity ever attempted by the two groups. The Jinx will be held in the gym December 3 at 1 o'clock, according to co-chairmen Peggy Clifford and Don Amos.

Several acts have already been arranged, which includes Wesley Johnson, talented song and dance man, who will do several dance numbers.

Frankie McCormick, radio star from KFRC, will sing several numbers, which will probably have a Christmas background.

Frankie Baker, who last year put on a Punch and Judy Show, will return again this year to add his talents to the program.

Mike Driscoll, president of the A. M. S., has promised that plenty of refreshments will be served,

Dinner Tonite For Women

Executive council members of the Associated Women Students will have a dinner tonight at the Russian Tea Room at 8 o'clock. Novel decorations and flowers will be arranged by Betty Brown, Harriet White, and Mary Tavalara. Sponsors of the organization will be present and may entertain with travel talks.

As a final undertaking for this semester the A. W. S. will give the Varsity Dance to be held the last week of school. The football team will be honored at this time and will be presented with their awards for the season.

A Christmas theme will be used for this affair and a stag-stagette idea carried out. Prizes and gifts will be given away. Music will be supplied by a Campus band.

Dorothy-Jean White is the head of this committee, which is composed of Darryl Hopkins, Victoria Regier, Bill Ferem, Louise Parodi, Frances Lynn, Virginia Kyriazi, George Teale and Robert Prather.

FROM THIS SIDE

By BILL BUCHAN

With this issue the Golden Gater resumes its place among the activities of the campus. Starting with next Tuesday's issue, we will again resume the regular schedule of the Golden Gater, except where holidays intervene.

This Wednesday edition is being handled by the entire staff of the paper. It is being edited by Jean Coplestone, Friday managing editor, with the assistance of Max Williamson, Tuesday managing editor.

It CAN Happen Here!

This did happen. We're not proud of the fact that it was one of the members of the Associated Students. We're not proud of the fact that the person had no pride, and wouldn't help better the college. We only wish we had secured the name of the person.

When asked to sign the all important building petition this person refused. It couldn't be bothered. It wouldn't lift its hand to write its name on the indictment of the conditions that exist at the college. It couldn't be bothered to fight for what it deserves.

It seems mighty small. Yet no one is commanded to sign the petition. We can only ask you to put your name to this plea for a respectable college.

It does seem that it takes all kinds to make a college. We never felt that there would be students who are willing to continue to go to classes in such buildings as College Hall and the annexes. We never felt that there would be students who haven't the fortitude to protest against the danger that besets them every time they set foot in the "hallowed" precincts of the administration building. We never felt that there would be students foolhardy enough to continue to fence with those grim jesters, Fire and Earthquake.

While the rest of the schools in this great "city that knows how" are modern in every respect, San Francisco State College continues in buildings that are outmoded, dangerous and are veritable traps in which many lives will be sacrificed in the event of a major conflagration.

We are not authorities on the subject. Yet without doubt it wouldn't take a fire very long to blaze up into a conflagration. It wouldn't take long before the bodies of the students of this college would be laid upon a funeral pyre. When you consider the facts the picture becomes more horrible. The very exits that should be the means of safety will prove pitfalls of disaster. The small narrow doors that provide access to the various classrooms would be barriers that would demand their toll.

The picture isn't pretty. Yet that master artist, Fact, paints a canvas that is brilliant in its horror. It is up to you, and you, and you, students of this college, to fight against such conditions. Your name on the petition, your letters to your representatives at Sacramento, the protests of your parents and friends and organizations, these are the weapons we can use in this fight. In fact, they are major weapons.

A $2,500,000 Dream.

Inasmuch as we can't verify this story, we will have to give it to you without mentioning any names. It seems that Santa Barbara State College is expecting a gift to drop out of the sky. They, according to reports, expect a $2,500,000 appropriation from somewhere with which to build a new campus! This despite the fact that the present Santa Barbara plant is considered one of the most outstanding of all of the State college campii. Possibly one surpasses it in excellence and in spaciousness, San Diego.

It should put more spirit into the fight here at the college. It should be the spark to set off a roar of protest. It should mean the one element that will make for success of our campaign. It should be the spark that will set the college going, even to a march upon Sacramento to place the petitions before the officials in person!

Back To the Desk

This week we get back to the editorial desk. Many things have piled up in front of us.

The W. A. A. has completed a successful playday. College Theater gave its presentation of Post Road. The football curtain has been closed. All-in-all, it's been a busy ten days.

The W. A. A. Playday

We would like to take a line here to express our thanks to the W. A. A. Along with Mr. Leo C. Nee and Coach Dave Cox we made up the male contingent at the recent Playday luncheon.

The W. A. A. should be congratulated on the successful conclusion of their Olympic Playday program. Not only was it a great gathering of some 150 high school girls, it was a means of publicizing the college that will be of great value.

Junior Prom Night

Big game night has been chosen for the date of the Junior Prom. With the Colonial Room as its setting, the Prom will be further emphasized by the very atmosphere that pervades downtown San Francisco on Big Game night. So here is a tip that should look good. Make your Big Game celebration headquarters at the St. Francis, the Colonial Ballroom to be exact.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MINUTES

October 5, 1936.

The fifth regular meeting of the Executive Board was called to order by President Cockrum at 7:20 P. M. The minutes were read and the following correction made. The Soph Strut will be held on October 24 or October 31. Communications were received from the following:

International Relations Club.
Spanish Club.
College Theater.
Young Democratic Club.
Station K. Y. A.
Nyoda Club.

Committee reports:

Mr. Decker reported that it was suggested by the Committee that the Minstrel Show be given next semester, and have some other activity this semester.

Mr. Martin read the Dedication ceremony for Roberts' Field.

Mr. Ed Smith reported that the P. A. System had been fixed and that there was no change.

Mr. Hopkins will report next meeting on Executive Board pins.

Mr. Hopkins reported on the re-finishing of the S. B. office and President Cockrum thanked him for the splendid job that was done. President Cockrum also announced that this was to be a strictly business office.

Miss White will report at the next meeting.

Mr. Mirande stated that the tickets for the State J. C. game would be 55c for outsiders.

Miss Parodi reported on the New Students Reception and was congratulated for doing such a fine piece of work.

Unfinished Business:

Mr. Teale announced that the Low Senior class was in favor of giving a supper dance for the graduating Seniors on December 4 or 5.

We will have a report on the definite dates for the Soph and Jr. dances at the next meeting.

The motion moving to amend the constitution was tabled until November.

A motion was made to have an Executive Board Party on October 12 after the meeting, charging 25c per person. Motion passed.

Miss Paulsen, Miss White and Mr. Driscoll were placed on the committee for the party.

New Business:

Mr. Gallagher, representing the Y. D. Club, stated that the club did not feel that their constitution should be taken away. It was decided, however, that in order to keep the College from being politically involved, we would have to rescind the constitution. It was suggested that the club organize under a new name and present a new constitution to the Executive Board for approval.

The letter from the I. R. C. asked for the dates of October 30 and 31. As there is to be a rally and the W. A. A. playday on these days, the secretary was instructed to ask the I. R. C. for more specific plans of their conference.

Mr. Ed Smith was given the Spanish Club constitution to report on next meeting.

Mr. Hopkins was given the College Theater constitution to report next meeting.

Mr. Barry presented an idea for a State night to be held at the Midtown Theater November 10. The rally committee was put in charge of the program.

The Board gave Mr. Ferem permission to have a dinner and dance for class members outside the school.

Mr. Decker announced a dance after the J. C. game Friday night.

Meeting adjourned at 8:35.

Respectfully submitted,
MARIAN IRWIN, Secretary.

WHAT MAKES EXCESSIVE TALKERS HEAVY DRINKERS AND SMOKERS?

New York, N. Y. (ACP)—Do you talk, drink or smoke excessively? Psychiatrists have traced the reasons for such over-indulgences in many cases to interruptions of feeding during infancy.

Dr. Earnest E. Hadley, director for biological sciences in the Washington (D.C.) School of Psychiatry told a meeting of the American Institute at the New York Museum of Science and Industry that feeding interruptions exasperate the infant and these resentments, if repeated often enough, create in the psychic make-up a state of interpersonal hostility or "negativism" which manifests itself first in the refusal to eat. This creates the feeding problem that baby specialists, nurses, and parents must solve.

This "negativism," in the growing child, takes the form of antagonism to all suggestions and commands, Dr. Hadley explained. In adult life this inter-personal hostility shows itself in many curious and apparently remote ways. It often causes persons to become "windbags," heavy drinkers, or smokers, who find "a sort of compensation for the unconscious hosis also likely to be one of the after tility for feeding." Loss of appetite is also likely to be one of after effects.

Dr. Hadley added that the adult who has developed the "negativism" in infancy may not only refuse to eat but refuse even to speak pleasantly. It may affect any activity connected with the mouth.

"Right here may lie the explanation for the long-winded political speeches in the next generation," said Dr. Hadley.

"Post Road" Production Marks Rise of New Star

By WILLIAM BUCHAN

They travelled down the old Post Road Friday night. Staging Mitchell and Steele's famous play, the College Theater presented their semi-annual production at the Community Theater.

Marked by the ascension of one new star, and the brilliant performance of an old favorite, the play was slow except for a first act climax. It seemed to be the fault of the people who adapted the play for the College Theater production, rather than the fault of the players.

George Archambeault, making his first appearance for College Theater, scored as the pottering George Preble. His portrayal of the henpecked husband who lived for his radio with short wave was outshone only by the veteran Clem Zannini.

His role as the fake Reverend Mister Cartwright was possibly the outstanding performance in the production. Playing a retired Minister, he scored with his lusty portrayal. The first act climax centered around his unmasking and discovery as chief kidnaper.

One of the brilliant performers, yet a disappointment, was Carola Beetz in the lead role. Her first act portrayal of the spinster, Miss Emily Madison, was a clever bit of work. She dominated the stage, and her mannerisms were convincing. It was during the second act that she seemed to lose this brilliancy. Her work in the climactic situations lacked the clever touch that marked the first act scenes.

The play hit one high spot in the first act. This was the unmasking of Zannini. After the build-up in this act, the second act slowed down too much. It lost the fast, breezy touch that marked the final scene of Act 1.

From this critic's viewpoint, it seemed as if an attempt had been made to either condense the play or to make an adaptation to fit the needs of College Theater.

A supporting cast of eleven players assisted in the production. Playing one of the minor leads as Doctor Spender, Roy Laugeson turned in a capable performance. Not brilliant in any sense of the word, he made the character of the Doctor live.

Virginia Gildea was cast in the role of May Preble. Not a part that she could get much out of, nevertheless she turned in an excellent bit of acting.

The play was well received by a nearly capacity audience.

A Snow Plow for State?

Just what we need here at State is right in the offing. Doctor Roberts, being the recipient of advertising material, is deeply considering purchasing for the school a brand new Gravely snow plow.

Just think, the advertising material states that this tractor-drawn snow plow will go in places you wouldn't think of taking the big machines and not only that, but it will effectively clean a path of snow from the sidewalk 40 to 50 inches wide. The width is easily adjustable and also the manner of throwing the snow is variable.

Gosh, won't this school feel proud of itself if it were the only college in San Francisco to own a snow plow. The only hitch is where are we going to get some snow to plow. If the Gravely people would also ship a couple of truckloads of snow along with their bloody plow we might talk business. At that it would come in handy cutting through the fog in the streets or the traffic in College Hall.

Yes, Mr. Gravely, if your snow plow and tractor combination could also wash dishes in the Co-Op we might talk business but we only had snow in San Francisco once and then in the deepest spots you could still see the backs of the ants crawling on the concrete sidewalk. At that though, if you stop to think of it, running a snow plow in San Francisco would create another highly desirable WPA job. Tish! Tish!

This Noisy World

"We live in a noisy world. Our lives are noisy because of our discontent. One of the great problems of today is to learn how to reduce our restless lives to the quiet which will bring real happiness. Before we can escape the curse of modern, disorganized life, we must practice being alone with ourselves." Professor Lisgar R. Eckhardt of DePauw University thinks we should get used to ourselves enough to be able to stand communing with ourselves.

Ballyhoo

"Americans are too easily swayed by the ballyhoo of publishing companies, the exhortations of the book-clubs, and the ravings of loud-mouthed critics when it comes to the books they read. A good rule is not to read a book when it first comes out, but to let it stand for a year or two, except in the most unusual cases." Dr. Eugene Vest, professor of English at Dakota Wesleyan university, should know that some of us have had "Anthony Adverse" around that long already.

TIME OUT

By TOM THORPE

LET'S ALL GO!...

Whenever I write this column I attempt to devote as much space as possible, and through the medium of this paper, use that space for things that I believe are really worthwhile and are deserving of a boost... Today's headliner as far as this column is concerned is the gigantic Block "S" Ring Show, which Ken McGrew, president of the Block "S" society and Sid Trager, prominent sportsman of S. F. State, have worked unceasingly on in an effort to give the student body something really worth their money... With such headliners as Maury Schwarz, Lenhardt, Cartwright, Delma, Hammond, Wilkes, Delluci, Ferem, Decker and McDeavitt, not to mention Hal Harden, George Paiva, Mike Driscoll and George Mirande, this affair really promises to be one of the outstanding events on the campus for this semester and it is the hope of every member of the Block "S" that you come out and watch a good evening's entertainment... Remember, Monday nite, November 23, in the gymnasium.

FINIS...

Last night's dinner, attended by the coaches and members of the football squad, officially closed the most successful pigskin season in the history of S. F. State College. Highlights of the evening were the presentation of two footballs and a medal. Dan Farmer, coach of the backfield, received the football used in the Chico game, which was his Alma Mater, and Hal Harden, line coach, was presented with the ball used in the San Francisco Junior College contest. Both footballs were autographed by all members of the squad and the autographs were burnt in by Ed. Smith, senior manager. Captain Bill Harkness was given a medal by the team and with the help of a wonderful meal the evening was a real success. It is planned that this football banquet will be a seasonal affair...

TOWN HALL IN SANTA BARBARA

Combined with their annual "Homecoming Week," San Barbara State College were excellent hosts and hostesses to the handful of San Francisco State rooters and football squad that journeyed down to that Southern City to watch and play football... The game was preceded Friday nite by a parade followed by a rally in the gymnasium... Saturday morning the team was taken around town in the bus, viewing the field, the College and the campus... Later on, well, Time Marches On... It is now after the game... football season is over, the team celebrates... So did "Red" Thompson... need we say more?... Nevertheless, everybody enjoyed themselves and so did Charles Iago and Doell... "Bud" Chandler really raised the devil, he had two milkshakes (quick like lightning) and went to bed... At least everybody showed the right spirit, that is, except Ed. Smith, he had... My, my...

The above statements in regards to Santa Barbara are true... If they're not it's because I wasn't there!

Hoop Sched. Lists Games In Flag Race

Two games are on schedule in the intramural basketball league today. The tough Block "S" outfit will tangle with the equally tough Muscle Men. Stars for the Muscle-Men should be Dave Schiller and Maury "Killer" Schwarz.

The second game will see the Flying "A's" matching baskets with the Orioles. As the Golden Gater went to press the identities of the members of these teams could not be determined.

Friday will see the Peanut Vendors trying to fend off the threat of junior. Junior in the case being the Peanut Vendors Jr. The Block "S" will match strides with the Don Juans.

Monday will see the Muscle Men versus the famed Don Juans. Tuesday will see the first of the play-off games. Winner of Division 1 will meet the winner of Division 2.

Wednesday the winner of Division 1 will meet the winner of Division 3. Monday, November 30, will see the final game when the winner of Division 2 meets Division 3.

The rules as outlined by Manager Al Cartwright are as follows:

All games must be played in the women's gym.

First game at 12:15, second at 12:35.

Two nine minute halves, 2 minutes half time.

Score to run as follows:

Win—3 points.

Tie—2 points.

Lose—0 points.

Track Team Starts Work

Motion pictures of the 1932 Olympic games were shown at a track and field meeting last Thursday for the benefit of aspiring cindermen.

The meeting, the second this semester, was for the purpose of starting newcomers off in the right manner as well as smoothing out any flaws which may be found in the present methods of veterans. The form of leading specialists of the world was studied while Coach Dave Cox explained the hows and whys.

Acting under the advice of Cox, many tracksters are already working out during odd moments—getting into condition for the approaching season. Cox has noted a number of inexperienced men of promise in his gym classes whom he expects to improve and develop into competitors of class.

Hoop Squad Wins Openers

By winning their first two games last Friday night, the State Jayvee and 145 teams showed some good prospects for the 1936-37 basketball season. They took the first game last Friday by the score of 33 to 23 from Billy Hammond's team from the Y. M. C. A. The second ended with the Jayvees on the long end of a 45 to 34 score against the San Francisco Boy's Club 130 lb. team, who won a championship last season.

With only three days practice, the fellows looked fairly good against two tough opponents. A few of the boys excelled in the games, Kenny Wilkes being high-point man against the Y. and Cecil Huse scoring 17 points on the Boy's Club to be high point man for the night. If too many of the players are not promoted to the varsity when it starts practice this week, State may have a winning pair of teams in the two playing last Friday.

This Friday night will see the two teams in action again at 6:45 o'clock. They are to take to the floor against the Lowell High School varsity and 130 lb. teams.

Gaucho Aces Tally Bound To Score Win

By HAROLD MARTIN

San Francisco State's gridders have the distinction of scoring more points against Santa Barbara State than any other team this season. The Golden Gaters lost to the Gauchos 37 to 7 in their final game of the season, played on October 31 at Santa Barbara, but the score is not a true indication of the strength of the two teams.

Outside of three long runs by Howard Yeager and "Scooter" Morelli of Santa Barbara, the game was fairly even. Yeager, who won honorable mention on Grantland Rice's All-Americans last year, sprinted 82 yards on the second play of the game to score, and broke loose with a 63 yard run in the third quarter for another touchdown. Morelli rambled 56 yards early in the third period to chalk up the fourth Gaucho tally. He is better than Yeager, in the opinion of the State players, so you have some idea of what the Golden Gaters faced.

State's touchdown was scored by Runar Stone in the fourth quarter on a 45 yard pass from Bill Harkness. Stone leaped high in the air on the 3 yard line to snag the pigskin out of the hands of two Santa Barbara players and rambled across the goal line unmolested. Red Thompson drop kicked for the extra point.

Santa Barbara held a 12 to 0 lead at half time, but they were none too certain of maintaining their undefeated and untied record as they left the field during the intermission. The Staters played bang-up ball after being scored on in the first minute of play, and they held Santa Barbara on even terms until a break gave the Gauchos their second touchdown late in the second quarter.

Although State's ground attack was none too strong against the heavy Santa Barbara line, they presented an aerial game that kept the 5,000 fans on edge. The Gaters completed 11 out of 26 passes for a total of 177 yards. Captain Bill Harkness, who was on the throwing end of most of these plays, earned the plaudits of Coach "Spud" Harder as well as that of the Santa Barbara players.

Full Card Is Prospect For Fight Night

By Frank "Mickey" Schwass

On Monday nite, November 23, the Girls' Gym will resound with most unfeminine repercussions of leather on bare skin and bodies bouncing haphazardly off taut canvas. The occasion will be the Sport Nite sponsored by Block "S" Society. The cream of States' leather pushers and grunt and grimace behemoths will be on hand to provide sports fans with an exciting evening of legalized mayhem. Those shrinking souls whose innards rebel at the sight of a couple of huskies seriously attempting to cure each other's insomnia or of another equally engrossed pair attempting to revive the medieval custom of drawing and quartering, should stick around outside until the bouts are over and then come in for the dance.

Those who have had the good fortune to have witnessed other boxing and wrestling tournaments sponsored by the Block "S" will eagerly welcome this opportunity to see more of these stirring bouts. These lads do not enter the ring with the idea of pulling their punches or saving themselves for the dance afterwards, they climb through the ropes with a look of dogged determination and a resolve to give their best, win, lose or draw. From the looks of the card, the wrestlers will not be the only ones to hit the canvas Monday nite.

Among the bouts that should attract most attention is a heavyweight mystery match between "Wee Willie" Lenhardt and the "Masked Marvel," unknown exponent of "homicide on canvas." These two wrestling Ingagis will weigh in at 250 lbs. Another bout that should be outstanding is that between "Newsy" Bill Ryan and "Junction Inn" Plutte for the heavyweight boxing championship of State. If the referee doesn't give his "doleful drone of the dreadful decimal" over the reclining carcass of one or the other of these huskies your correspondent will be surprised.

Maury Schwarz and "Sad Sam" Goldstein renew their feud in what promises to be a sensational return match. The agonized protests of either of these matmen whilst being subjected to such refined modes of torture as toe-biting or leg-splitting is something that will linger long in your ears.

Other bouts on the card stack up against those mentioned here in interest and excitement. The prices of the affair, including the dance, are 25c for bleacher seats and 40c for ringside seats.

Down In Front

By ED SMITH

It seems while down in Santa Barbara I found a little piece in the Los Angeles Examiner which I would like to pass along to you, to wit:

"SAN FRANCISCO STATE vs. SANTA BARBARA STATE. This is a battle of giants. Nobody ever heard of San Francisco State, and there is doubt if such a team exists. On the other hand, Santa Barbara State is a well-known aggregation, and many people, refusing to be influenced by propaganda, say that Santa Barbara State should represent the West in the Rose Bowl (and don't think that they couldn't do it, either!) Nonetheless, and in spite of the fact that when Santa Barbara meets San Francisco State it may be a phantom game on a phantom field, the Leprechaun leans to the left and falls to the right and comes up stiff picking Santa Barbara State."

This delightful bit of trash was written by John Conolly in his column "Yours Confidently" in the Los Angeles Examiner. Mr. Conolly may be right when he says that he never heard of San Francisco State but WHO EVER HEARD OF JOHN CONOLLY?

DR. ALFRED FISK SPEAKS ON PACIFISM AT HOME OF DR. THEODORE TREUTLEIN

Innovation of Evening Meeting For Sphinx Club May Bring Guests For Nominal Charge— Gerald O'Gara Gives Lowdown on Business Rackets

"Is Pacificism a Dream or a Probability?" will be the title of the address to be presented to the Sphinx Club at the next meeting Friday, November 20 at 8:00 in the home of Dr. Treutlein, 130 Uplands, Berkeley. The regular meeting will be the first part of the evening and will be followed by a social and refreshments.

This is the first meeting of its kind to be held this term and a successful evening is anticipated. The members interested in attending should contact Sonia Selig in regard to transportation. A sign up list is posted on the Bulletin Board and all planning to come are asked to sign before Wednesday. Members may bring a guest, but a charge of 25 cents is necessary to cover the charge of refreshments.

"All teachers are potential suckers!" with this startling statement, Gerald O'Gara, of the Better Business Bureau, opened his speech entitled "Rackets in San Francisco," which he presented at the last meeting of the Sphinx Club.

Mr. O'Gara continued, "The fact that teachers draw down regular pay checks makes them easy marks for those who make a living from the susceptibility of their fellow men. A group of financiers, merchants and business men band together and form non-profit, non-stock corporations which have as their aim truthful advertisement and fair representation; these are the Better Business Bureaus.

"If you doubt the legitimacy of some proposition which has been been presented to you by a high pressure salesman, all you need to do is to inquire of the Better Business Bureau any information that they might have on file concerning your particular case. If they lack the information that you desire they will look it up for you.

"In many cases this action on your part may save you money and also send your business into legitimate channels — and thus the sponsors of the bureaus profit."

FREE PICNIC FOR SOPHS TONIGHT

Tonight the low sophomores are holding a picnic at Sigmund Stern Grove. An orchestra has been secured for the evening, and refreshments will be served. This affair is to be free, and all low sophomores and their friends are urged to attend.

Jack Hulbert, chairman of the committee for the picnic, says everything is set for a big evening. He hopes for the support of the class in this event so that it will be a big success.

PHI LAMBDAS AT PLEDGE TEA

Students and faculty are invited to attend the formal pledge tea to be given by Phi Lambda Chi this Sunday, November 22.

Edith White and Grace Bertelsen are co-chairmen of the affair. They expect a large number of the Student Body to attend and meet the newly elected members of the organization.

Pledges will be in a receiving line headed by the officers of the club, Harriet White, president; Arlene Williams, vice-president; Dorothy-Jean White, secretary; Grace Bertelsen, historian. Miss Rich, one of the faculty sponsors, will also greet guests.

The House, 101 Buena Vista avenue, will be open to the students from 4 to 6.

English Story

Dear Mr. Zahn:

These are the facts of the story on the English meeting, November 18, in Room 208. I'll let you put them in shape for a story.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the English course offerings for the spring term, 1937. There will be an opportunity for students to ask questions as to course content, transfer value, value in the major and minor, the use of the course as a free elective —any other things that may occur to them. I shall also explain the reason for not giving English 1j and 2j next term. We are asking all majors and minors in English to attend if they are interested, but the meeting is not limited to majors and minors. Lower division students who may not yet have selected their majors and minors, but who are interested in work in English, are welcome.

These are, I think, the essential facts.

Sincerely,
FRANK L. FENTON.

SCRIBES LAUNCH NEW MAGAZINE NEXT WEEK

Westscribe, new monthly magazine and official publication of the Scribes Club, will make its first appearance about November 15.

Composed entirely of student writing, Westscribe will be gotten up in attractive rustic style and sell for ten cents the copy.

The Scribes Club aims, through this magazine, to encourage creative writing in State College, and every student is invited to contribute articles, essays, stories, verse and sketches of any length.

Contributors are asked to place manuscripts in box 1281. Although contributions may be handed in any time, it is hoped to have a large selection at once, so that the editorial board can sort them out for future publication.

The magazine will also accept cartoons, wood or linoleum cuts, and original bright sayings or jokes.

A. P. G. Travels South

Members of State's journalistic fraternity will journey southward to Los Angeles for a three day convention on November 27th, 28th and 29th, according to a statement from Elsa Magnus, the president of the group.

Elsa Magnus, A. P. G. Delegate

The convention is an annual affair conducted by the far western members of this national fraternity. Approximately twelve persons from the local college chapter will attend. At this time Bill Rose, who has been approved as a member of the group, will be initiated by national officers. Alice Marsten and Dorothy Jean White were also successful candidates for membership, but will be initiated at a later date in the term.

According to reports from committee chairmen on the Chickens' Ball, the affair was an overwhelming success. Officers of the fraternity were loud in their praise of the fine spirit that animated all of the college organizations during the production of the show, and which made it such a success. "It was this spirit of co-operation that put it over," said Elsa Magnus, fraternity president.

Members will convene for a final meeting before convention at the home of Bob Barry on Friday night. At this time all arrangements will be completed for the convention.

Just plain old common sense

You know that a cigarette can be mild; that is, when you smoke it it's not harsh or irritating.

You know that a cigarette can have a pleasing taste and aroma.

When you smoke a cigarette and find that it has the right combination of mildness, good taste, and aroma, it just seems to satisfy you... gives you what you want.

I smoke Chesterfield all the time, and they give me no end of pleasure.
